Time dilation

By the edge of the Kuhmühlenteich, I found the perfect place to create something gentle, warm, and quietly welcoming. A place where the clinking of cups, the scent of homemade granola, and the soft hum of conversation create a pause that feels like a hug. Goldherz was born from a feeling I carried with me while traveling through the misty hills of Malaysian coffee farms, the sunlit streets of Cape Town, and the poetic calm of ancient Persian courtyards. Each place left a mark, through surprising flavors and the warmth of strangers who quickly felt like friends. The menu reflects my journey. You will find ingredients chosen with care, many from local producers who share our respect for nature. Much of what we serve is made by hand — from vibrant pesto to fresh gluten free bread and granola. We hope you feel what we feel each day and that this café is a space where stories live and the outside world gently fades for a while.
